We started early by listening to our mother

In 1984 we lost our father to cancer and in 1986 our mother purchased a house that was in desperate need of a complete rehabilitation. Maybe it was out of necessity or maybe it was desire but we both jumped right in to the project; tearing down walls, hauling out debris and turning a dilapidated structure into a home.

Throughout our adolescence we worked on a variety of construction projects; projects that developed our renovation skills and fostered our home improvement desires. We started purchasing homes and renovating them when we were teenagers. As we matured into adults we extended our services to the public. Our goal was to create a company that was constantly evolving to meet the ever changing needs of our clients. We cater our services to clients who understand how to value the construction process.

The Value of Listening

At Norbut Construction, "listening" to clients is different than just "hearing" what they say. Listening means understanding what our clients are saying and being able to turn their dreams into reality.

As a result of our process our clients receive:

- A team of listeners
- A crew of trained Norbut Craftsmen
- A project catered to their lifestyle and personality
- A clean and safe work environment
- An organized and defined time frame
- Thorough budgetary planning

A process that works:

- 98% customer satisfaction approval
- Majority of projects that come directly from referrals

If you have had multiple renovation projects you know what we're talking about!

Our process is unique.

Our product is superior.

Our service is impeccable.

In 2002 we officially started Norbut Construction based on the idea that truly listening to clients is the most effective way to ensure that every aspect of the project receives the attention it deserves. Every aspect of our strategic process works in concert to create the project of your dreams.
